

(Above) The paintings are divided into two distinct themes. (Left) Dr Tan (centre) viewing the paintings at the exhibition.

Artists present diverse works at Shah Alam gallery

ARTWORKS of hope and inspiration are on display at Galeri Shah Alam in Shah Alam this month.

The exhibition is a collection of 77 paintings in two distinct themes.

“Pancarona” consists of abstract pieces that focus on protestation and hope, and “Lukisan Alam” takes inspiration from Mother Nature and architecture.

Of the 16 participating artists, 12 are from the Selangor and Kuala Lumpur Painters and Calligraphy Specialists Association while the rest are from Tiga Seni Satu Alam group.

Among them are Prof Mohd Ali Mohd Yusof, Chong Buck Tee, Goh Teck Hui, Mohd Fouzi Mohd Aini, Fadzlan Rizan Johani, Shamri Azwan Haji Amron, Chuah Phaik Hook and association founder and president Ng Juat Wah. Ng said nature was the source and power of all living things that were fertile, safe, peaceful and prosperous.

“And only with peace and harmony, will people enjoy life-long happiness,” she said.

The exhibition was launched by ArchiCentre Sdn Bhd director Dr

Tan Loke Mun, who said architecture was the mother of all arts.

He advised young artists to travel and explore the world.

“Travel, dream big and bring back riches to the country in the form of art,” he concluded.

The exhibition ends on April 30.